UAPF warns about fake mailing!

The contributors of the Unified Accumulative Pension Fund report that they received information in social networks and messengers of false information about telephone attacks by fraudsters. The latter, posing as employees of the pension fund, are trying to find out the number of their bank card and ask to name its details, allegedly for recalculating the pension. The UAPF found that such spam mailing was carried out in the Russian Federation for several months and has nothing to do with the Kazakhstan accumulative pension system.

UAPF once again informs that it does not carry out such mailings and does not request personal data and your bank card details by phone.

The Fund also recommends not following suspicious links to unfamiliar sites and asks to check the information only on the official website enpf.kz or on the official pages of the UAPF on social networks.
